

Brad William Johnson

October 24, 1959 - February 18, 2022

Brad William Johnson, beloved husband, father and cowboy, was called home to his Lord on February 18th, 2022. A graveside service will be held at Perryman Cemetery, February 27th at 2:00 pm. Anyone who knew Brad knows how difficult it is to sum up the details of his life on a single page.

Born to Grove and Virginia Johnson on October 24th, 1959 in Tucson Arizona, Brad was a true renaissance man. He was not only interested in all life had to offer, but was gifted in it as well. Although he was taken too early, he lived life to the fullest. The son of a horse trainer, Brad grew up with a passion and love for the outdoors, and his younger years would see him hunting and competing in rodeo whenever he had the chance.

Brad started his professional rodeo career in 1984, and the circuit would lead him to Dallas, Texas, where he would meet the love of his life, Laurie. They married October 11th, 1986, and were married for 35 very full years.

While on the professional rodeo circuit, Brad was recruited by a movie scout which led to the beginning of his acting career. Prolific, he would appear in many commercials, magazines, films, and television shows, and became the face of Marlboro for a few years as the Marlboro Man. This brought the Johnson family to California. A few years later, his love for the outdoors would lead Brad and the family to purchase and move to a ranch in rural New Mexico.

Brad greatly enjoyed improving and enhancing land, in a way that maintained and respected its natural beauty. After building a beautiful hunting lodge in

New Mexico, Brad saw great success and enjoyment from guiding hunts while raising his growing family with his wife. He always felt most at home outdoors, and his passion for hunting made that evident.

A man of many talents, Brad also filled his days restoring Model 1886 Winchester Rifles. For this he would come to be recognized as a master craftsman, as his rifles are showcased and cherished worldwide. He would continue to devote time to this art, even as his family moved to the mountains of Colorado. Their adventure would continue there for 4 years, before returning home to North Texas. As much as he loved cowboying and the outdoors, Brad loved nothing more than his family. He put them before himself in every way and they know that they could not have been blessed with a better husband and father.

From life in the professional rodeo circuit, to a career on the big screen, to hunting bear and caribou in Alaska, to finishing his time selling ranch real estate in the rolling hills of North Texas that he loved, Brad truly seized and embraced all different paths of life. His wife and children will always cherish the memories that he gifted to them. He was larger than life. Brad was loved by many and loved people back, a genuine friend, trusted colleague, and a dedicated husband and father, he will never be forgotten, and his legacy will go on.

Brad is preceded in death by his parents Grove and Virginia Johnson and his sister Beth and is survived by his wife, Laurie, his eldest son Shane Johnson, his daughters; Bellamy and husband Brian Olomon and their 3 children, Rachel and her husband Layne Ellis, Eliana and her husband Jordan Williams, Eden and her husband Dylan Gressett who are expecting their first child, Rebekah Johnson, Annabeth Johnson, and his youngest son William Johnson. He is also survived by his step mother Teresa Johnson.

His favorite quotes:

“He taught his sons to be men, and his daughters to accept no less”

“Do right and fear no man”

“ Brad and I shared the same floor of Green Springs B at SOSOC in Ashland OR in 1980. We enjoyed playing our guitars and put together "Desert Skies" and played for the masses on occasion. He taught me to rope and tie in the commons of our dorm. Fond memories for sure! "I rode with him I have no complaints " RIP

“ Here it is 2024 and I just found out about Brad's death. I usually do not write posts on obituaries. I've lived in Louisiana all my life, and I know a Texas Man when I see one. But even on screen or off, what brought him to my attention, was his demeanor. He could be tough, but I could see he had a heart of gold. He could be a tough, but he portrayed a man who had not just passion, but Compassion. To his wife Laurie, I know what it is like to be married 35 years. I offer great Empathy to you, and faith & hope that you will always feel Brad's love & from the Lord. As well as your children.

I just learned of Brad's passing after Watching his movie with Melissa Gilbert. I am so incredibly sad to hear he passed. I always felt inspired by the man he was and the characters he chose to portray in movies. I admired him for his genuine compassion and gentleness. He was so handsome and showed so much care to his fellow actors. He gave hope. I first saw him in the movie Always which has been my favorite ever since then. I send my never ending comfort and prayers to you Laurie and to your beautiful children, the grandchildren and the whole family. I am very happy to hear of your wonderful life together and how many beautiful children you both had! Well done! They areh your legacies. Praying for your continued strength and energy in moving forward. I know you will all see him again in heaven. Many blessings. Very Respectfully and Sincerely, Gina Gilbert, CA

“ I remember Brad from Lincoln Savage Middle School where we were Class mates back during the early 70's. He rode same school bus with me, he lived near Stringer Gap Road rural area. We were in Vocational Agriculture and Drama Classes together. He was quite the class clown at times. He used to tease me a lot which was annoying to me but sad that he passed away and not having more time with his dear ones in life. Even though my sister in law's daughter Cathy Mendoza of Grants Pass went out on dates with him back in the 90's when she was I think much too young for him to date, he'd pick her up in a limousine when he was in the area. I didn't much approve and she didn't listen to me or believe that he was same age as me, I born 10/02/1959... reason I told her he too old for her. Good to know he settled down with wife and children. Prayers for their sad loss.

“ ...so sad when family and friends lose the ones they love so much, and when they're in the public eye, everyone else loves them too...and I did, I loved him for what I knew him as, a great actor, and good guy from what he seemed to me, to be...although he did a lot, my favorites were the movie 'Always' and the westerns... my heart and love goes out to those who knew and loved him personally...keep those good memories in your heart and let all else fade... I will miss him forever...

“ I am also a fan of Brad Johnson. I never met him but I'm sure we could have been friends. I had seen him in commercials in the 1980's and then saw him in "Always", that became one of my favorite love stories!
A few years later I saw him again in the "Left Behind" series. That's when I researched him and discovered we were both born the very same month, day and year.
I'm saddened by his passing. I just found out today... October 24, 2022, which is our birthday. I was checking to see any "news" or recent photos of him and what he was up to.
To his wife and children, I'm so sorry for your loss. Thank you for sharing him and his talent with us. God Bless and keep you!

“ I am only a Brad Johnson fan but was deeply saddened when I read that he'd gone to be with the Lord. It kind of knocked the wind out of me. My wife and I loved watching Brad Johnson in all his movies. He was truly one of absolute favorite actors and we loved that he appeared to be a man of faith. We will keep your family in our prayers and encourage you to know that your dad (& husband) is in your future and someday you'll be reunited. We're very sorry for your loss. We truly are.

“ Brad was such an amazing actor, and it was obvious that he was also an amazing Christian man who loved his family. His work on Always, and the Left Behind series was incredible. No one else could have played those parts so effectively. Praying for his family, that they will be comforted. He is dearly missed.

“ Sad and shocked to hear of Brad's passing tonight. My sincere condolences to his family. He was a larger-than-life man. I met him through hunting in the mid 2000's during my time in the Pentagon and used to see him at Safari Club International and in L.A. He was also very nice to my military assistant and signed his Navy flight helmet since he'd starred in Flight of the Intruder. I'll always remember him fondly, especially when I shoot a .20 ga Belgium Browning over & under shotgun that I bought, which used to be his.

Godspeed Brad,

“ I was Brad's baseball coach at Southern Oregon State College. He was a great young man, very well-liked by players and coaches alike, quiet but hard working. I didn't know what happened to him after he left SOSOC until I saw the movie "ALWAYS" and recognized him. I knew Danny Glover so I really enjoyed "FLIGHT OF THE INTRUDER." The thing that gave me great peace was seeing him in the "LEFT BEHIND " series because it gave me some assurance that Brad was a Christian. I was not aware of his passing until yesterday and was shocked to read of it but was comforted by the fact that I know where he is now. He is with our father in Heaven. My thoughts and prayers go out to his wife and family. Although they obviously miss him, we were all fortunate to have had him in our lives.

“ I have known Brad since we were little kids. Our dad's were best friends from an early age. We always had so much fun when we'd visit the Johnsons growing up. Some great memories include camping in Yellowstone, living with them for a few months until we could move into our house in Oregon, getting crawdads in the creek across the hwy. , Brad's hobby of making leather belts and such. When my cousins came to visit from Michigan, Brad lead us on a trail ride through their property....Doug and I just messaged about this and he said he got chicken pox from Brad during their trip to Oregon.

Brad will be missed by many. He was a great guy and I will always regret not stopping in to see him on our last two trips we took to Virginia. RIP Brad!

Our condolences to his family and close friends. Praying for peace and comfort moving forward.

“ Laurie and family,
Paula and I extend our most sincere and deepest sympathy to you and your children. Even though we have known you for a short time, we have come to love you all as true brothers and sisters in Christ. We are heartbroken for you. You have a beautiful family. We look forward to getting to know you better in the days and years to come. Please know that, if you need anything, we are a phone call away.

Much love, in Christ,

My heart goes out to you Laurie and your family! I am so thankful Brad had accepted the Lord as his Savior! I have seen the Left Behind series many times and Brad was great in that! I'm not sure how any actor in those movies could have played in them and not accepted the Lord as their Savior! The Lord loved Brad and wanted him Home early! He had served his time here on Earth. The Lord used Brad mightily in those movies and I pray that many gave their lives to the Lord due to it! My prayers are with you and your family! I was heart-broken when I heard! Much love to each of you! I look forward to meeting each of you, as my brothers and sisters in Christ one day!

“ I remember the first time I ever met Brad and Laurie. They were traveling to Raton in a motor home that quit just outside of Capulin Volcano National Park. It was a Sunday and they were unable to find any open businesses or anyone to help. I guess Brad knew Mike, but I couldn't get hold of him or the Whittington Center. I wondered, who is this guy (I'd never heard of him)., he could be an ax murderer! But, I packed up and headed out to retrieve him and as it turned out, Laurie and the kids. This was the beginning of a wonderful friendship. After they moved to New Mexico, we shared many good times and stories. I loved visiting them at the ranch and watching their family grow. My heart goes out to Laurie and the kids. RIP Brad, you are loved and will be well remembered.

He wanted to do something special for them before a school event. I was not a flower shop but he didn't want to travel to a bigger town to buy. He was so appreciative and kind and later on brought his daughters by so that could thank me for the bouquets. Family was everything to Brad. I will miss his visits and our conversations. His Family will be in our Prayers. God Bless, Sandy Bayer.*
