“ Oh Denise, I know what you are going through and my heart breaks for you. Raymond used to tell of Stanley and his martial arts skills when he was young. I'm sure the stories got exaggerated over the years, but they were impressive! He was so very kind when I found out Jeremy was ill years ago and talked to me for a long time about it. I never forgot his kindness or his words of comfort. My prayers are with you at this time and in the days to come. It's not an easy road to walk, but you can get through it if you lean on the strength given to us by our Lord. I speak from experience that you will need that strength.

I like to think that Stanley and Raymond are being reunited and catching up on things about now...
